Mindfulness in the Classroom
Day Two of Moshi Mindfulness
Streams of Thought
Moshi Mindfulness in the Classroom series is a focused sequence of CASEL-aligned lesson plans. Built around the magical Moshi world, the lessons use audio content and characters to bring social-emotional learning to life across topics like self-regulation, awareness, and making friends. Take-home sheets are included with each lesson so that kids and families can practice mindfulness in and out of the classroom.
CASEL Standards:

Today we will continue on our journey to mindfulness. First, we will review what we learned yesterday. Think about the river where your thoughts will float away during our meditation. We picture our thoughts floating away so we can focus on relaxing our minds. When we have many thoughts, it can be hard to relax or calm down.

Moshlings like to breathe deeply to calm down. Let’s practice our slow, deep, and quiet breaths.

We will take notice of our thoughts and feelings. What are you thinking about? How are you feeling?

We will relax our bodies today. First we will move our bodies. Wiggle your toes. Now quietly move your feet. Move your legs. Stretch your arms in your own space. Move your back and stretch your shoulders. Gently move your body and work out your energy. Don’t touch anyone else – this is your time to move!

Now that we have practiced our breathing and moved our bodies, it’s time to listen to the Moshlings teach us more about being mindful.
Get Ready to Listen

Stretch any part of your body you need to, then get comfortable. Focus on your breathing. Take a slow, deep breath, and let’s begin!

After You Listen

- How did you feel after listening?
- What sounds did you focus on?
- What did you think about?
- How did your body feel after breathing deeply?
- Did you have thoughts that you let pass by?
