Mindfulness in the Classroom
Fuddy the Pudgy Fubble
Moshi Mindfulness in the Classroom series is a focused sequence of CASEL-aligned lesson plans. Built around the magical Moshi world, the lessons use audio content and characters to bring social-emotional learning to life across topics like self-regulation, awareness, and making friends. Take-home sheets are included with each lesson so that kids and families can practice mindfulness in and out of the classroom.

Acts of kindness and small gestures can bring joy to others. Today we met Fuddy the Pudgy Fubble who helps others. He is generous, warm, and kind. But he is different from the other Moshlings, so sometimes the other Moshlings laugh at him. It is important to use kind words.

Why should we use kind words?
Has someone ever said something to you that hurt your feelings?
How could they have said it so your feelings would not have been hurt?

Have students draw thought bubbles and fill the bubbles with kind words they can say to a classmate, friend, teacher, parent, etc.

After you Listen
Create a kindness chain for the classroom. Every time a student in the class does something nice for a classmate, write in on a link and add it to the chain. Keep links and pens in an open space for students to create links throughout the year. Watch the kindness chain grow longer and longer all year!
